Cloudbreak Energy Partners Announces Strategic Investment from GETEC Energie Holding

BOULDER, Colo. — [September 2, 2026] — Cloudbreak Energy Partners, LLC ("Cloudbreak") today announced a strategic investment from GETEC ENERGIE Holding GmbH ("GETEC"), under which GETEC will invest up to $50M to facilitate Cloudbreak's IPP transition and the development and construction of Cloudbreak's 106 MWdc safe harbored portfolio of solar assets, as well as Cloudbreak's pipeline of solar and storage assets.

GETEC's investment will fund Cloudbreak's capital expenditures, project development costs, and general growth initiatives across its national portfolio of distributed and utility-scale solar and storage projects. The investment reflects GETEC's first move into the US market, building on a successful track record of owning and operating renewable energy assets across Europe. The combination of GETEC's depth of experience in distributed energy and Cloudbreak's deep expertise in solar and storage development make this a strong strategic partnership at a time when US power demands are rising at an unprecedented rate.

Cloudbreak Energy's Chief Executive Officer, James Cleland, remarked, „Our firm spent considerable time over the past year developing a close relationship with GETEC while running a thorough investment process in parallel. The more time we spent with their team, the clearer it became that they were the right partner for us. GETEC brings decades of operating experience across European energy markets, and they made a deliberate decision to enter the U.S. alongside a developer and IPP they view as best in class. We have a great deal of respect for their leadership team and are proud to serve as their platform in the United States."

"Cloudbreak has built a strong platform in one of the world's most dynamic energy markets, with an experienced team, an attractive portfolio and a clear ambition to grow as an independent power producer. This investment marks an important step for GETEC as we enter the US market and expand our international renewable energy activities. We look forward to combining Cloudbreak's local development expertise with GETEC's experience in building, owning and operating energy infrastructure to accelerate the delivery of solar and storage projects across the United States," said Franziska Artz, Managing Director of GETEC Energie Holding GmbH.

„The partnership with Cloudbreak is a natural extension of GETEC's strategy to invest in scalable energy solutions and attractive growth markets. Cloudbreak combines a strong project pipeline with deep expertise in solar and storage development, making it an excellent platform for our entry into the United States. Together, we see significant potential to build a long-term renewable energy business and contribute to meeting the rapidly growing demand for reliable, sustainable power," said Sven Suhr, Managing Director GETEC Corp GmbH.

GETEC was represented by Rödl & Partners as tax advisor and Moore & Van Allen PLLC as legal counsel. Cloudbreak was represented by Truist Securities as investment bank and Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP as legal counsel.

About Cloudbreak Energy Partners
Cloudbreak Energy Partners is a national developer and IPP of distributed, community, and utility-scale solar and storage projects, with a development portfolio of more than 750 MW across the East Coast, Midwest, West Coast, and Colorado. Founded by a team of renewable energy professionals, Cloudbreak is focused on accelerating the renewable energy economy by building lasting relationships with landowners, utilities, and communities, and by applying project finance expertise and proprietary technology to deliver high-probability project outcomes at scale. Cloudbreak is based in Boulder, Colorado.

About GETEC ENERGIE Holding GmbH
GETEC is an international energy services group headquartered in Hannover, Germany, providing the full spectrum of energy services and related system solutions, including renewable energy development and operation, energy networks, and smart infrastructure. GETEC's offerings are built around a commitment to sustainability, efficiency, and the conservation of natural resources. GETEC ENERGIE Holding GmbH serves as the group's holding company, coordinating corporate strategy and investment management across its portfolio companies.

Media Contact
GETEC ENERGIE Holding GmbH
Nicolas Baris
Head of Marketing and Communications
Tel: +49 511 121088-829
Mobil: +49 170 7268 089
medien@getec-holding.de